TIGERS SHOW CLASS AT MOILIILI FIELD TRIM ALL-OAHUS AND 25TH INFANTRY

SCHOFIELD CHAMPS HAVE A BAD DAY ON A SLIPPERY DIAMOND

Tigers 6, 25th Infantry 2.
Eddie Klepper was too much for the 25th Infantry batters, and the Tiger sluggers proved too much for three pitchers and a number of infielders at Moiliili field yesterday afternoon. It was a good game, but it would have been a better one if the infield had furnished better footing. At that, Moiliili showed to remarkable advantage, considering the soaking rains of the early morning hours. It is doubtful if the game could have been played anywhere else in town.

Leadon skies caused a number of fans to miss an afternoon's sport, for it was figured that rain would break up the game. However, not a drop fell during the contest, although many anxious glances were cast at the heavy bank of clouds that hung threateningly over the mountains all afternoon. In spite of adverse weather conditions, a fair sized crowd, including a couple of hundred soldier rosters from Schofield, was on hand to see the service champions in their second game with the Coast leaguers. The 25th had one bad inning, the fourth, when everything went wrong, resulting in three runs for the opposition. After that they had little chance of success, for give a pitcher like Klepper a four-run lead and he takes a lot of beating. With the game well in hand Klepper let down occasionally, but four hits off his delivery in the last three innings didn't worry him to any extent. The soldiers used three hurlers, the lengthy Mr. Waterhouse working until the seventh, when he was replaced by Phillips. The latter only pitched to three batters, and then retired in favor of Jasper, who finished the game without allowing a hit. Waterhouse hurt his leg in the sixth, when he fell after crossing first, and Phillips hurt his arm in some way. In the early frames the former had considerable on the ball.

There was no scoring until the third, a fast double play in the first setting the soldiers out of a hole. In the third, with one disposed of, Klepper hit to right and was forced at second by Fitzgerald. McArdle came through with a two-bagger that scored the Tiger pitcher.

In the fourth the big fix was certainly on the ball. Kane got life when Waterhouse bunted an infield hit, but Reiberg forced him. Orr laid a bunt down the first base line, which Cross just managed to touch without being able to field. Then Cross came through with a fumble, which gave Chillingworth his base. With the base ball, a balk was called on Waterhouse, and at the same time Kane was hit by a pitched ball. Kane was given his base by being hit. Orr scored from third as a sacrifice fly by Klepper. Chillingworth scored on Fitzgerald's single.

The soldiers got their first run in the fifth. With one man out Woods was safe on a bad throw by McArdle. Klepper took his turn at making a walk, advancing Woods. Then Amos came through with an infield grounder, which Klepper threw to third, but Woods collided with Chilly and the latter dropped the ball. Waterhouse hit a slow one and the runner got to the plate ahead of the ball.

In the seventh the Tigers got another batter. Derrick came through with a single and Kane walked for four wide ones. The next man was out pitcher to first. Orr was safe on a fielder's choice, on which Derrick was retired at third. Kane scored when Waterhouse made a mess of fielding a grounder. This rattled the big fellow, and he cut loose a very wild one, which caught Jack Bliss in the ribs. Bliss played well a little bag and when he tried to get back slipped and half fell. The ball was finally thrown to first, but Jack had time to get there first. In the meantime Orr came across with another run.

The eighth brought the soldiers one more run. Amos started with a hit and was sacrificed by Jasper. The next man was out, and then Cross came through with a timely hit, scoring Amos.

B. JOY AND CO. PUT UP A FIGHT BUT ARE NOSED OUT BY A RUN

Venice 7, All-Oahu 6.
The Saturday game was a good one from the fans' standpoint, because it was close and because there was plenty of hitting at all stages. Barney Joy, who carried the pitching burden for the home team, was touched for 12 hits, while nine of the ones off "Lefty" Williams' delivery and four off Jim Scott's kept the 25th occupied most of the time.

The locals presented a all-star lineup, but they got off to the wrong foot in the very first frame, when three errors by the usually reliable Kan Yin behind the plate let in a couple of runs. With the down McArdle was passed, and hit to second on Kan Yin's wild throw to first. Derrick was hit by a pitched ball, and Kane was safe when his grounder was fielded to the plate in time to cut McArdle off. Tin Kan Yin threw the ball at third with nobody covering, and Derrick came home. Reiberg's grounder was thrown to the plate to catch Kane out. Kan Yin dropped the throw. He covered the ball in time to fire it third, catching Reiberg.

Three hits by Venice like the third accounted for two more runs. In their half of the same frame a local delivered with three hits in a row, one of them a double by Amos, and with the next man, fanned, a fourth hit by Lal Tin accounted in all for three runs.

In the fifth Jack Bliss singled and went to second when a muffed a slow grounder. Bliss weto third on a passed ball and scored. Fitzgerald's hit, Fitz being cast between second and first in an attempted steal. Williams scored on a wptch. McArdle and Derrick wall. Reiberg hit, scoring McArdle. r. flied to left and Derrick was out at the plate.

Joy and Kan Yin tied in the sixth, and Yamaashiro f. to right. Fernandez doubled to cr, scoring two.

In the final frame Argite opened with a clean triple to left Scott. Lal Tin and Akana went, pitcher to first. Joy hit, scoring Argite. Kan Yin was safe on Mle's base. Henshaw, batting for Amos, struck out.

Jim Scott replaced Wins in the eighth, but the Oahuans kindly to his offerings and collect four hits, including Argabrite's thugger in the two innings which White Sox crack pitched.

Bunts and Bounders

Waterhouse worked his speed ball yesterday, but tired after the runs began to come in.

Akana still continues to slug at the ball—and continues to fan. He must take a few hints if he's going to last in the Coast League.

McCarthy and Stayton make a fine team to handle a ball game. Both were in good form yesterday and there was no fault to find with the umpiring.

The 25th brought down a big bunch of rooters from Schofield and they were highly pleased that the regimental team was able to score twice on the Venice lads.

Henry Chillingworth was badly bumped on third yesterday by a baserunner and dropped the ball that Klepper had tossed to him to put out the runner. It was an excusable error.

Jack Bliss was as voluble as a gramophone behind the bat yesterday. He kept Klepper going at top speed—and Klepper's top speed is mighty fast on a dark day. The batters could hardly see the ball.

"Big Chief" Kennedy made a neat speech at the plate yesterday between innings. On behalf of the Venice ball team he thanked the people of Honolulu for their cordial reception and expressed the wish of all the players to come back here again some time.

Moiliili field attracts a good many people who seldom go to Athletic park. On the other hand, to most fans it seems slower than Athletic park. The turf is not firm enough for fast running. Still, a great many people much prefer this park to the other. Take a bunch of fans and they will be well divided as to the merits of the two fields.

Jim Scott is a mighty good pitcher, but somehow the local batters are able to gather hits off him. On Saturday two high pops, both of which should have been handled by the infield, went as safeties, the wind taking them out of reach. One started out over short stop, then blew back inside the diamond and fell at the feet of three players.

A somewhat unusual play, which was not generally understood, came up in the fourth frame of yesterday's game. With the bases choked, and Amos at bat, Waterhouse balked. While Bliss was calling attention to the fact, the big pitcher cut loose a wild one that caught Jack in the ribs. Umpire McCarthy called the balk, which scored the runner from third, and advanced the men on second and first, while Bliss got his base by being hit. A good many of the fans who didn't see Bliss hit figured that the count was three balls, and that the balk was ball four, forcing in the run.

LEAGUE LEADERS WIN GAME FROM KOREAN PLAYERS

Details of Harvard's 36 to 0 victory over Yale reached Honolulu today with the arrival of mails from the coast. The accounts show that F. B. Withington of Honolulu played in the big game, going in at left guard in place of Weston. Apparently Hermann von Holt did not play at tackle.

Captain Brickley, the Harvard star, was in the game in the fourth period for a brief time, despite the fact that he only recently recovered from an appendicitis operation. The details of Brickley's goal kicking follow: Brickley went in and dropped back as if for a drop kick. It was a fake and Mahan went to the five-yard mark. Bradlee gained four yards and Mahan two feet. With 12 inches to go Harvard was penalized 15 yards for holding. Again Brickley dropped back, but it was a forward pass. Mahan to Coolidge, who went 10 yards. Watson then threw another forward pass to Harvard for a touchdown. Brickley kicked goal. Score: Harvard 36, Yale 0. In all these plays Brickley stayed far back of the line and Harvard used only 10 men to score. Brickley went out, wildly cheered by Harvard rooters, and McKintock took the vacant place.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 21.—Harvard's football juggernaut crushed the Yale eleven by a score of 36 to 0 in the blue "bowl" here this afternoon, while 71,000 spectators watched the gridiron rout in stupefied amazement.

The crimson machine rushed up and down the field almost at will, and when the 60-minute battle had elapsed had succeeded in running up the largest number of points ever registered against the Ely eleven. With the exception of the 1885 Yale victory of 48 to 0, it was the greatest score ever.

Honolulu Fans on Edge to See Major League Stars in Action

MORIARITY

George Moriarity, one of the speediest infielders in the American League and a member of the major-league group of stars who arrive tomorrow for a series with local teams. Moriarity's playing should be a revelation to local fans. He is a hard and timely batter and full of "pep."

When the liner Maheoa docks tomorrow morning shortly after 7 o'clock, major league baseball stars to the number of 27 will reach Honolulu. For the next two weeks the fans will have the chance of seeing some of the best ball talent in the world in action, and every game should be a real diamond battle, for there is little to choose between the All-Americans and All-Nationals, and at the same time there is a big rivalry between the two all-star casts. Mainland papers indicate that the games played on the present tour are as keen and exciting as the crucial games of a pennant race.

The big leaguers will be met off quarantine by A. L. Castle, H. G. Lowry, and several local and newspapermen. Many of the players are bringing their wives on the trip, bringing the total of the party to more than 50. All will be at the Young Hotel. Local fans will have a chance to size up the stars Tuesday, when they are slated to appear for practice prior to the Venice-All-Oahu game at Moiliili.

HARVARD VICTORY STAMPS TEAM AS ONE OF CRIMSON'S GREATEST

F. B. Withington of Honolulu Plays—70,000 People See Wonderful Spectacle

The one-sided score failed to give the slightest inkling of the thrilling scope of the play or the remarkable strategy and individual brilliancy with which the game bristled. Every second or third play brought the thousands to their feet, so intense was the excitement and so spectacular the play. No game of equal caliber on Eastern football fields in many years has provided such a spectacle.

It seemed at times as though the contest was a carefully prearranged spectacle, wherein climax followed climax until the spectators were bewildered by the rapid succession of runs, passes and kicks, which were turned into scores with almost as much rapidity, but always for Harvard. Far from the least of these kaleidoscopic changes were the fumbles Yale contributed in the shadow of the crimson goal posts, and which Harvard turned into additional touchdowns.

Team Height of Perfection. The grip of the game held spellbound the greatest gathering of football enthusiasts ever assembled for an intercollegiate contest in this country, over 70,000 spectators massed in the newest and largest of college stadiums forming a picture almost as enthralling as the combat of the crimson and blue jerseyed athletes.

The celebrating antics of the crimson undergraduates, including the snake dance, cheering and burning red fire on the tops of the goal posts, gave a picturesque finishing touch to one of the greatest games of modern football. The Yale cohorts remained loyal to the last, although they realized that the blue had been but a foil for one of the greatest elvens of all time. Just how the Harvard team of 1914 classes with some of the famous combinations of former years is tonight a matter of heated argument among veteran players and experts, but a careful analysis of today's play clearly indicated that no team, under the modern rules, has reached the heights of offensive and defensive strength shown by the crimson this afternoon.

DUKE AND CUNHA OFF TODAY FOR AUSTRALIA

Duke Kahanamoku and George Cunha, the fastest swimmers in the islands, to say nothing of the former's international record, leave this afternoon for Sydney on the liner Ventura. They are accompanied by Francis Evans, as manager of the trip. Duke belongs to the Ilii Nalu, and Cunha to the Healanis, but the pair are going as an All-Hawaii combination.

The swimming program "down under" is not known here, but it is understood that W. W. Hill, the Australian sporting promoter, will have a series of exhibitions staged in several of the Australian cities.

The swimmers expect to be back in Honolulu in about three months.

Harvard scored in every period and by all methods except the safety. Just after the kickoff the crimson took a Yale punt on her own 20-yard line. Mahan, Bradlee and Francke broke through or around the Yale line for steady gains until inside the blue's 10-yard line. Here Mahan's short but perfect forward pass to Hardwick resulted in the first touchdown, from which Hardwick failed to kick goal.

There was no further scoring in the quarter, although Yale appeared to have made two points on a safety by Mahan when the Harvard left half-kicked a rolling ball over his own goal line and fell upon it. The officials decided that it was a touch-back, however.

Harvard struck savagely in the second quarter. Starting from her own 40-yard line, Mahan, Hardwick and Bradlee carried the ball across the 10 lines in rapid succession until Francke was given the pigskin for the final plunge. He tumbled, but following the ball like a flash, fell on it as it rolled across the goal line for Harvard's second score. Hardwick failed again at the try for goal. Here Yale woke up.

Record Long Run. Taking a punt on her 25-yard line, the blue rammed her way through the Harvard line to her opponents' 25-yard line. Knowles starting. This crimson forward advanced and Yale resorted to a forward pass. Knowles to Kinsworth for 10 yards. This Knowles resumed his line battering. A yard or two at a time he hammered his way to Harvard's two-yard line, but his efforts went for naught, for on the final rush he dropped the ball and Left End Coolidge of the crimson eleven hurried himself at the spheroid and, scooping it up on the dead run, hurried for the Yale goal, 95 yards away.

Clever blocking and checking by Hardwick, Mahan and Trumbull protected the tiring runner until he had crossed the line for the third touchdown, from which Hardwick kicked goal. In the history of football, which goes back to 1873, but few longer runs have been made following a fumble, and those were in the days when the field was longer than the present 100-yard dimensions. Harvard set out to run up a record score, but the Yale fighting spirit was in evidence, although the players were crudely prepared for the crimson perfected attack, which piled up score after score.

In a general sense Yale was outclassed and outgeneraled, although several of her players compared favorably with Harvard's best. Legore's running, Knowles' line plunging, Wilson's defensive work in the backfield and Talbot's and Betts on the line, were bright spots amid the blue glow. Like all recent Harvard teams, the individual was sunk in the perfect working of the football machine with its wonderful alertness, keenness in following the ball and smooth working attack and defense.

Mahan and Hardwick were the Harvard stars from an individual standpoint, but it was a football team that Coach Haughton sent into Yale bowl to help in the dedication of the new football stadium.

ENGINEERS HAVE EASY TIME WITH WAGON SOLDIERS

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]

FORT SHAFTER, Nov. 30.—In very much of a one-sided game here yesterday afternoon the Engineers defeated the "wagon soldiers" of the 1st Field Artillery by a score of 17 to 0. The Artillery footballers appeared entirely too beefy and slow for the fast playing of the "saunders." Time and again the forward pass was executed by Varner of the Engineers without the slightest interference of the opponents. Varner played his usually brilliant game and with the excellent work of Stout and Thomas was able to go through the Artillery and smother their attacks in rear of the line. At no time, excepting in the last quarter, did the Artillery show any signs threatening the Engineer goal, and then by a series of well executed line bucking plays were able to get within about 10 yards of the coveted goal. The Engineers held them for downs and kicked down the field out of danger. The Engineers depended on forward passes and end runs which worked nearly every one against their heavy opponents. Several enthusiastic rooters for the Artillery came down with the team, but evidently didn't like to strain their voices. A little rooting might have turned the tide in the last part of the game.

The game was ably handled by Schuman as referee, Lieut. Polhemus, umpire, and Lieut. Reed, lead linesman.

The lineup was as follows:

Time of quarters, 15 minutes. The Engineers will meet the 2nd Infantry team on the Shafter grounds Sunday and the game should be a good one.

The Engineers have lost a splendid player in Coleman, who plays a good game if he does lose his head occasionally.

The other game next Sunday will be between the Marines and the 1st Field Artillery at Schofield.

The games yesterday completed the first half of the series at the Service league and the 1st Infantry team will start the last half "odds on" favorites.

"SPEEDY" GONZOLO WINNER OF 5-MILE RACE ON ROLLERS

In an exciting five-mile skating race at the Fort street rink Saturday night, "Speedy" Gonzolo lived up to his name by beating a field of five classy roller experts and winning the first leg on the Star-Bulletin challenge cup. Gonzolo finished two laps ahead of Freitas, the original challenger, Gliboff.

The time, 23m 33s, was exceptionally good, considering the fact that the course was 22 laps to the mile with hardly any straightaway in which to make up time. Gonzolo jumped into the lead on the first lap and was never headed. C. W. Grey skated a steady race but allowed himself to be lapped several times in the early miles and couldn't force his way to the front when he put on steam. Mitchell took a tumble in the 32nd lap but was up and going again in a few seconds. Grey also fell toward the end of the race.

A big crowd was on hand to see the race, and the sport promises to become very popular here.
